Instructions for Authors

Submission of Manuscripts

The Editors welcome submission of articles, chronicles and commentaries. Articles should be approximately 3000–7000 words in length; chronicles should not be longer than 4000 words; and commentaries, to be published in the Debate section, no longer than 2000 words. Proposals of topics for review essays are also welcome. Material may be submitted in Spanish or Portuguese; in this case authors may be asked to produce a translation into English.

All quotations should be translated into English, except where the original language is of particular textual importance, in which case an English translation should be given immediately afterwards, in ordinary parentheses if part of the main text and without parentheses if separated from the main text.

All submissions should be made online at the Journal of Latin American Cultural Studies ScholarOne Manuscripts site (link to http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/cjla). New users should first create an account. Once a user is logged into the site, submissions should be made via the Author Centre. Online user guides and access to a helpdesk are available on this website.

Submissions should be double-spaced, and accompanied by an abstract of up to 200 words and a brief statement for Notes on Contributions. Please include the full postal and e-mail addresses of the author who will check proofs and receive correspondence and offprints.

References should be indicated in the text by a superior numeral, and listed at the end of the manuscript on a separate page, as follows:

If further guidance is required, please refer to the Chicago Manual of Style 15th edition.

Proofs will be sent to authors if there is sufficient time to do so. They should be returned within 3 days.

Free article access Corresponding authors will receive free online access to their article through our website (www.tandfonline.com). Reprints of articles published in this journal can be purchased through Rightslink® when proofs are received. If you have any queries, please contact our reprints department at reprints@tandf.co.uk.

Copyright. It is a condition of publication that authors assign copyright or license the publication rights in their articles, including abstracts, to Taylor & Francis. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and of course the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors may, of course, use the article elsewhere after publication without prior permission from Taylor & Francis, provided that acknowledgement is given to the journal as the original source of publication, and that Taylor & Francis is notified so that our records show that its use is properly authorized. Authors retain a number of other rights under the Taylor & Francis rights policies documents. These policies are referred to at http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/authorsrights.pdf for full details. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources.

Back Issues. Taylor & Francis retains a three year back issue stock of journals. Older volumes are held by our official stockists Periodicals Service Company http://www.periodicals.com/tandf.html, 11 Main Street, Germantown, NY 12526, USA, to whom all orders and enquiries should be addressed.
