European Journal of Higher Education (EJHE) aims to address higher education topics across the European region, including regional integration, the experience of recent EU member countries, the role of supra-national organizations, and the peripheral influence of European higher education systems, such as in Turkey, central Asia, the Middle East, and North Africa.

Preparing and submitting your manuscript
European Journal of Higher Education (EJHE) aims to address higher education topics across the European region, including regional integration, the experience of recent EU member countries, the role of supra-national organizations, and the peripheral influence of European HE systems and practices.

EJHE will consider original papers written in English, which have not been published already nor submitted simultaneously in another Journal. All submissions are peer reviewed and should be sent by email attachment to the Editor at daniel_lincoln@hotmail.com.

Where this is not possible, please send a hard copy to:
Dr. Daniel Lincoln
106 Sewall Ave., Apt. 4
Brookline, MA 02446
USA

Please make sure that your contact details are clearly visible on the outside of all packages you send to the Editor.

As above, submitted manuscripts are subject to peer review at the discretion of the Editor. In order to maintain anonymity during any refereeing process, authors are requested to refrain from, or keep to a minimum, self-referencing.

Before preparing your submission, please visit the European Journal of Higher Education homepage at http://tandfonline.com/.

As an author, you are required to secure permission if you want to reproduce any figure, table, or extract from the text of another source. This applies to direct reproduction as well as ‘derivative reproduction’ (where you have created a new figure or table which derives substantially from a copyrighted source). For further information and FAQs, please see http://journalauthors.tandf.co.uk/preparation/permission.asp.

There are no page charges in EJHE.

Copyright
It is a condition of publication that authors assign copyright or license the publication rights in their articles, including abstracts, to Taylor & Francis. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and of course the Journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors retain many rights under the Taylor & Francis rights policies, which can be found at http://journalauthors.tandf.co.uk/preparation/copyright.asp. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources.

Free article access
As corresponding author, you will receive free access to your article on Taylor & Francis Online. You will be given access to the My authored works section of Taylor & Francis Online, which shows you all your published articles. You can easily view, read, and download your published articles from there. In addition, if someone has cited your article, you will be able to see this information. We are committed to promoting and increasing the visibility of your article and have provided this guidance http://journalauthors.tandf.co.uk/beyondpublication/promotemorearticle.asp on how you can help.

Reprints and journal copies
Article reprints can be ordered through Rightslink® when you receive your proofs. If you have any queries about reprints, please contact the Taylor & Francis Author Services team at reprints@tandf.co.uk. To order a copy of the issue containing your article, please contact our Customer Services team at adhoc@tandf.co.uk.
