Anne & Scope
JTED is a peer-reviewed journal, focuses on international economics, economic development, and more, respectively, the interfac- between trade and development. The links between trade and develop- ment economics are critical at the same time when both fluctuating commod- ity prices and trade liberalization and agreements can radically affect the economics of countries.
JTED is designed to meet the needs of international and development economists, economic historians, applied economists and policy mak- ers. The international economists who make up the journal’s Editorial Board encourage contributions from economics world-wide.
JTED can:
• Theoretical and applied issues in international and development economics
• Economic applications of trade and/or development issues based on sound theoretical economic models or testing funda- mental economic hypotheses
• Models of structural change
• Trade and development issues in economics in Eastern Europe, Asia and the Pacific area
• Papers on specific topics
• Review articles on important branches of the literature

Notes for Contributors
1. All submissions should be made online at the journal’s website: www.internationaltradeanddevelopment.com. Submit your cover letter via the Manuscript Central site (link to http://orca.stanford.edu/jted) and upload a cover sheet. Your cover letter should include a statement of originality and an abstract of not more than 200 words.
2. Submissions should be in English, typed in double spacing with wide margins, one side only of the paper, preferably of A4 size. The title, but not the author’s name, should appear on the first page of the manuscript. Submissions should be one-sided only. Manuscripts should not exceed 20 pages. The manuscript should be sent via the Manuscript Central site. Acceptance for publishing will be communicated via email.
3. Tables and figures should not be inserted in the pages of the manuscript, but should be sent on separate sheets. They should be numbered consecutively in Arabic numerals with a descriptive caption. The desired position in the text for each table and figure should be indicated in the margin of the manuscript. Permission to reproduce copyright material must be obtained by the authors before submission and any acknowledgements should be included in the typescript or captions as appropriate.
4. Use The Chicago Manual of Style for referencing, which gives the name of the author and the date of publica- tion as a key to the full bibliographical details which are set out in the list of references. When the author’s name is men- tioned in the text, the date is inserted parenthetically imme- diately after the name, as in “Smith (1970).” When a less direct reference is made to one or more authors, the date and name are bracketed, with the references separated by a comma, as in “(in several articles) (Smith 1970, Cook 1968, Dobbs 1973).” Where the reference is to a work of multiple authors, use only surnames of the abbreviated form as in “Smith and Dobbs (1978) or Jones et al (1990).” If an author has two references published in the same year, add lower case letters after the date to distinguish them, as in “Smith (1980a, 1980b).” Always use the minimum number of figures, names, dates, etc., e.g. 2–4, 105–6 (but 112–13 for ‘teen’numbers) and 1968–9.
5. Front matter should be used only where necessary to avoid interrupting the continuity of the text. They should be num- bered consecutively using superscript Arabic numerals. They should appear at the end of the main text, immediately before the list of references.
6. Submissions should include a list of references, in alphabetical order, at the end of the article. The content and format should be consistent with the Journal of Economics and Business. Cambridge University Press.
7. Multiple authors:
