INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

Authors should submit three printed and one electronic file copy (sent on disk or via email, with the subject line “Women’s Writing”, to the appropriate Editor) of their paper with a maximum length of 4,000–7,000 words, including references. It needs to be accompanied by an abstract of the paper of no more than 200 words and a list of up to 6 key words, suitable for indexing and abstracting servicing. Please include a brief biography of no more than 100 words. Details should be given of the author’s full postal and email addresses as well as telephone and fax numbers.

Manuscripts must conform to the Modern Language Association Handbook for Writers of Research Papers. Endnote style reference style (www.mla.org). The MLA endnote style uses superscript numbers as a key to the full bibliographic details which are set out at the end of the paper as endnotes. A few examples are listed:

Reprinted references can be quoted:
Fielding, 94.

If an author has two or more reference, an abbreviated title should be used to distinguish between the two. Ibid. and Op. cit. are not recommended.

Please note that the style is seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth century, not 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th century.

Tables, figures, illustrations and photographs with captions should be electronically supplied in a separate file with the paper, with a resolution of no less than 200 dpi. They can be submitted in hardcopy, clearly labelled; photographs should be high contrast black and white glossy prints. Permission to use illustrations must be sought from the copyright holder prior to submission of the paper. Permission must be granted in writing and accompany the illustration supplied by the author. Acknowledgement of source and copyright should be given in the caption. The desired position and size of the illustration should be indicated within the manuscript (e.g. <insert figure 1, size: half page, caption>)

For further guidelines on the use of the MLA endnote reference style, additional notes on style, and directions on the use of illustrations, please see the ‘Copyright Transfer Frequently Asked Questions’ please visit http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals.

Authors in North America, Latin America and the Caribbean should send their paper to Professor Lisa Vargo, Department of English, University of Saskatchewan, 9 Campus Drive, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, S7N 5A5; Email: lisa.vargo@usask.ca.

Authors in Europe, Africa, Asia and Australasia should send their paper to Dr Marie Mulvey-Roberts, Women’s Writing, Reader in Literary Studies, School of English and Drama, University of the West of England, St Matthias Campus, Fishponds, Bristol, UK, BS16 2JP; Email: marie.mulvey-roberts@blueyonder.co.uk.

Authors should submit their submissions to Dr Jennie Batchelor, School of English, University of Kent, Canterbury, Kent, CT2 7NX, UK. Email: J.E.Batchelor@kent.ac.uk.

Submissions should be in English using American or British spelling and British punctuation. Submission of a paper to the journal will be taken to imply that it presents original, unpublished work not under consideration for publication elsewhere. It is a condition of publication that authors vest or license copyright in their articles, including abstracts, in Taylor & Francis. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors may, of course, use the material elsewhere after publication providing that prior permission is obtained from Taylor & Francis. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining and paying for permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources before submission and any acknowledgement should be given in the form of an Acknowledgments section at the end of the paper. Where photographs or figures are reproduced, acknowledgment of source and copyright should be given in the caption. To view the ‘Copyright Transfer Frequently Asked Questions’ please visit http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/copyright.asp

COPYRIGHT
It is a condition of publication that authors assign copyright or license the publication rights in their articles, including abstracts, to Taylor & Francis. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and of course the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors retain many copyright rights under the Taylor & Francis rights policies which can be found at www.informaworld.com/authors_journals/copyright.copyright.position. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources.

PROOFS
Authors are expected to correct proofs quickly. Any alteration to the original text is strongly discouraged. Authors should correct typesetter errors in red; minimal alterations of their own work should be in black.
